PineSoft Newsletter : January 2010

Developments for 2010

- 2010 is set to be a very challenging year on the jobs front, making an efficient placement management system even more critical. With University funding likely to be cut by central government in response to the current recession, it has been decided to freeze PineSoft prices at January 2008 levels.

- Microsoft will be launching Office 2010 in the near future and compatibility testing with PineSoft is ongoing.

  - Version 12 is fully compatible with Access 2010, so there are no issues should your university move from Office 2007 to Office 2010.

  - Version 11 will continue to be fully supported and developed for users who wish to maintain the best compatibility with Office 2003/XP.

- Latest additions to our PineSoft website at www.pinesoft.FinDonIT.com include new video tutorials, in the Learning Centre, showing how to import data from Microsoft Excel into PineSoft data tables.

Latest Software Updates : Versions 11.4h & 12.0e (May 2009)

- Updated selection form for Job reports including applications closed and date criteria. As you can see below, the enhanced Selection Criteria gives far greater flexibility when filtering Job reports.
